ART STATEMENT

I am an Iranian-American artist with a strong passion for the arts. For me, art is a medium to communicate whatever is going on in my bubble with the rest of the world. So in a way, my artworks are the stories of a Middle Eastern immigrant woman residing in the US, trying to stay resilient in the never-ending battle to survive mental health struggles, immigration, social injustice challenges, and political pro-activation.

I have used a variety of mediums and techniques from watercolor and acrylic painting to music and dance installations to express myself. And I see my art as a healing tool not only for myself as a creator, but others who have seen & connected with them as if they have found themselves seen, validated, & expressed via mediums that are not as challenging as words. I believe that this connection alone is one of the most fulfilling aspects of my art.
